Seven reasons to try Union Energy's new price comparison service

1 You could save money!

Union Energy's free 100% impartial energy price comparison service allows you to search for the most competitively-priced energy providers in your area. You cannot get a better price by going direct to the suppliers as often the suppliers won't offer the deals we have available.

2 Competitive prices for the long term

Union Energy's service doesn't stop once you switch suppliers. You can also register for our Ongoing Monitoring Programme which allows you to set your own savings parameters. This means that when energy prices change you will be re-contacted as soon as you can save whatever sum you tell us is important to you, e.g. £50 per annum, by moving to another supplier. This service ensures that you can benefit from further savings in the future.

3 Independent advice

Union Energy is entirely independent and provides prices for every gas and electricity supplier in the UK, whereas most other price comparison services only show a selection of energy suppliers. Our prices are continually updated with information provided by the energy suppliers themselves and all suppliers are regulated to ensure they meet the required standard of service.

4 Help stop climate change

Switching to an electricity company that sells green energy is a great way to help stop climate change. The Union Energy calculator allows you to obtain prices from every green electricity supplier and see them ranked according to their CO₂ displacement figures. You may be surprised to find that green energy doesn't always cost more than traditional suppliers.

5 It's easy to switch!

Switching is easy and hassle-free! No changes are required to your meters, cables or pipes. Only the actual billing changes and you can arrange all of this by using Union Energy's service in less than five minutes.

6 A UK company to be proud of

Union Energy is owned by the TUC and our price comparison service is powered by Energylinx, the largest specialist home energy price comparison service in the UK with an excellent track record, fully accredited by the gas and electricity consumer watchdog, Consumer Focus (formerly called Energywatch). What's more our service is not just web-based; if you prefer to use the telephone to switch energy suppliers or have any problems or a query at any stage, you can pick up the phone and speak to an experienced person based in the UK who actually knows what they're talking about.

7 Your union will benefit too

If you decide to switch energy suppliers, Union Energy will receive a small commission from your chosen supplier which we will share with your trade union to help boost union funds. This has NO affect on the price you pay - you pay the same whether you go to the supplier directly or use our service.
